REFLECTION

Dear partners in ministry,

What does it mean to bear witness to the work of the triune God in the world? What does it mean to be part of the tapestry of multifaceted relationships that connect us to our church and to others around the globe? What does it mean to serve others in this pluralized and multicultural world?

These are some of the questions that have guided the Global Mission team in the churchwide organization this year. Reflections on both long-standing relationships and emerging partnerships across the globe continue to shape our ministry. In this accompaniment with global partners, we recognize the many ways in which the ELCA participates in their lives. Through these international relationships, we receive the gifts of companions who inform, inspire and shape our shared vision of God's presence in the world.

ELCA missionaries are a living, meaningful expression of this church's participation in God's triune mission, rooted in God's unconditional grace that we receive through faith. Valued by our global partners, missionaries strengthen our connections through their individual relationships, their physical presence, and their work and engagement with a diversity of communities and ministries.

In Acts 1:8, Jesus reminds us, "You will receive power when the Holy Spirit has come upon you, and you will be my witnesses in Jerusalem, in all Judea and Samaria, and to the ends of the earth."

To witness, in this sense, is not to take the place of others but to recognize and join in what the Spirit is already doing through others – across borders, cultures and languages. The vocation to serve internationally, among a diversity of communities, is, at its heart, a faithful response to God's call to bear witness to Christ's reconciling love in the world.

As you read through this year's directory by region, I invite you to pray for, accompany and continue to support the ELCA mission personnel who serve in partnership with global companions on behalf of the ELCA. Their ministry – and yours – is a visible sign of the gospel alive in the world today.

Your faithful support and generosity help to sustain this vibrant global witness, which reaches from Latin America and the Caribbean to the Middle East, Africa, Europe, Asia and the Pacific region. Such witness strengthens relationships that are rooted in faith and intertwined in grace. You make these ministries possible. Together we embody the ELCA's calling to be a church rooted in God's triune love, fully present and courageously engaged in God's mission near and far.

With gratitude for your faithful partnership,

Paulina A. Dasse
Senior Director for Global Mission
Service and Justice Home Area

ACCOMPANIMENT

The ELCA has organized its global engagement around the theology and practice of accompaniment: walking together with Lutheran, ecumenical and interfaith siblings around the world. We believe that God is calling us into the world – together. The global work of the church can be characterized by the following values:

MUTUALITY	A commitment to relationships and receiving one another's gifts and expertise.
INCLUSIVITY	A commitment to relationships that address exclusion in communities.
VULNERABILITY	A commitment to relationships that are open to Christ's transformation and reconciliation.
EMPOWERMENT	A commitment to relationships in which we build one another's strengths and capacity for God's mission.
SUSTAINABILITY	A commitment to relationships of accountability that steward God's gifts for the present and future.

INTERNATIONAL LEADERS PROGRAM

The International Leaders Program accompanies the ELCA's global companion churches and institutions to equip leaders for mission and ministry in a global context through scholarships and leadership development programming. Altogether, thousands of leaders around the world have been equipped directly by the International Leaders Program. They go on to benefit countless lives through their leadership in church and society, multiplying the impact of the program in their own communities. The ELCA benefits too, receiving the gifts of the global Lutheran church as we live out our commitment to ministry with new, young and diverse people.

In 2025, 182 individuals from 42 countries received scholarship support for academic programs at institutions around the world. An additional 22 young adult leaders from 20 countries served as camp counselors at ELCA camps through the International Camp Counselor Program.

Learn more at ELCA.org/ILP.

ELCA COMPANION SYNOD PROGRAM

Companion synod relationships of the ELCA connect its synods and congregations with Lutheran churches throughout the world. These relationships are concrete expressions of the ELCA's communion and fellowship with the more than 140 member churches of the Lutheran World Federation. Each of the 65 ELCA synods has at least one international church companion, and many have additional relationships, for a total of more than 120 companion synod relationships.

These relationships are rooted in accompaniment, which promotes the values of mutuality, inclusivity, vulnerability, empowerment and sustainability. Through the program, companion churches and ELCA synods nurture and strengthen one another for life and ministry through prayer, study, communication, exchange of visitors and sharing of resources.

We are a church that believes God is calling us into the world – together. Companion church relationships enrich and deepen our ministries by exposing us to global challenges and perspectives as we seek to work with one another to build up the body of Christ in the world.

The companion synod program is supported by the churchwide organization through the following strategic priorities:

COMMUNICATION – Network meetings and regular communication in coordination with the area desk directors, regional representatives and mission personnel.

DELEGATIONS – Small groups traveling to visit companions are supported and encouraged by ELCA staff in the region.

CONSULTATIONS – All companions who relate to a region, country or church spend several days engaging in conversation, learning together and revisiting relational agreements.

EDUCATION – Continuing development and distribution of resources in the areas of accompaniment and cultural competency.

GLOBAL GIFTS – Facilitating the transfer of funds to companion churches and projects through the ELCA Gift Processing Center.

Find your companion church by visiting ELCA.org/GlobalMission.
