

Report of the Secretary

I begin this report by recognizing the good work done by my predecessors in the Office of the Secretary. Both the Rev. Lowell Almen and David Swartling were good stewards of the responsibilities given them and surrounded themselves with hardworking, faithful people. I inherited a staff that is experienced and extremely capable of handling the variety of tasks assigned to this office. The number of people in this office who have worked in the churchwide organization for more than 20 years is amazing. This church is blessed by them.

Responsibilities

The duties of the secretary of this church are established in the Constitution, Bylaws, and Continuing Resolutions of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America (ELCA). Provision 13.41, states:

The secretary shall serve under the presiding bishop of this church, providing leadership, as specified in Chapter 11 of this constitution, and shall fulfill the normal functions of the secretary of a corporation.

The specific duties assigned to the secretary are described in the bylaws that follow this provision. Most are listed in bylaw 13.41.02. The secretary shall:

- a. Be responsible for the minutes and records of the Churchwide Assembly, Church Council, Executive Committee, and Conference of Bishops, and shall receive complete minutes for permanent record of all boards and committees of the churchwide organization.
- b. Maintain the rosters of ordained ministers, all other rostered persons, congregations, and synods.
- c. Provide for the publication of official documents and policies of this church, pre-assembly reports, assembly minutes, a directory of congregations, rostered persons, and entities of this church, and other informational and statistical material.
- d. Receive the annual report of the congregations in a form devised by the secretary, summarize the information, and make the summary available to this church.
- e. Coordinate the use of legal services by the churchwide organization.
- f. Be responsible for the archives of this church.
- g. Implement and operate a records management system for the churchwide organization.
- h. Arrange for and manage churchwide meetings, including the Churchwide Assembly, Church Council, Conference of Bishops, and others.
- i. Have custody of the seal, maintain a necrology, and attest documents.

The secretary is to prepare interpretations of the Constitution, Bylaws, and Continuing Resolutions of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America. In consultation with the presiding bishop, the secretary is to prepare proposed amendments to the governing documents of this church. The secretary is also responsible for providing staff support to the Nominating Committee and to the nomination process of the ELCA Church Council.

To accomplish all this, and additional duties as assigned, this church is served by the staff of the Office of the Secretary. I've had the honor and privilege to work with good and faithful colleagues in this office and in the churchwide organization. Several are serving as staff for this assembly. Others are in Chicago, around this country and throughout the world doing the work that previous assemblies have called us to do. At times it's easy to focus on an organization's leaders as if they were doing all the work. It's important for us to recognize that, in this complex organization that is the churchwide expression of the ELCA, a number of people are actually doing often-unseen jobs that allow this church to function in so many parts of the world.

Staff of the Office of the Secretary

As stated earlier, I'm surrounded by an experienced and hardworking staff. This church is blessed by their knowledge and expertise in many areas. It's a joy to work with them. Those marked in bold serve with me as the management team for this office.

Since the 2013 Churchwide Assembly, there have been three staff changes. David A. Ullrich, associate general counsel, died in 2014 after a battle with cancer. He was in the office until a week before his death. In 2015, Katherine English, legal assistant, transferred to Information Technology as a project manager. Joanne Brady, churchwide assembly registrar, left the churchwide organization after 27 years of service.

I've often said that the Office of the Secretary is a service unit to the whole church. On a daily basis this office responds to members of congregations, rostered leaders, synod staff, bishops and staff of the churchwide organization. The priority is to give accurate responses in a timely manner. The structure of the church is here to facilitate the mission that God has given us. God's mission is our first priority. Constitutions, policies and procedures give support and structure to this work.

This means that the Office of the Secretary needs to be ready to respond to changes in the church and world. Much of this work involves keeping a record of what the church has said and done in the past. Staff also works with synods and bishops to anticipate the changes needed to governing documents as this church moves into the future. I often say that the purpose of the Constitution, Bylaws, and Continuing Resolutions of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America is to enable us to accomplish the ministry that God has set before us. If our understanding of the church's mission or ministry changes, then we need to write the rules and policies that allow us to accomplish that ministry. The rules should not prohibit change but give structure to the change we believe God is calling us to make.

Constitutions

The work of the Word and Service Task Force and its recommendations called for a review of Chapter 7 of the ELCA constitution, Chapter 14 of the Constitution for Synods and Chapter 9 of the Model Constitution for Congregations. The recommendations also meant looking at the titles used in the constitution for the new roster and for the current roster of ordained ministers. It seemed strange to refer to one roster by its entrance rite and the other by its primary function. Thus the roster of ordained ministers was renamed to "ministers of word and sacrament." It has been noted that some ministers of word and sacrament are called to serve in "service" arenas. This is true, but the primary call for people on this roster is to be engaged in word and sacrament.

If adopted, these changes will call for several amendments to the Constitution for Synods and the Model Constitution for Congregations. A number of these amendments will require action by synod assemblies; all will require votes of congregational meetings. The Office of the Secretary will work with synods and congregations as the amendments are considered.

In another matter, the Church Council instructed the Office of the Secretary to prepare amendments to the constitution that would look at ways to establish the appropriate level of mission support for the churchwide organization. The result is the proposed amendments to provision 10.71.

One concern that has arisen since the 2013 Churchwide Assembly is that a significant number of congregations have not adopted changes made in the Model Constitution for Congregations related to member discipline. While this leaves the old pattern for discipline in place, the Constitution for Synods was also amended in 2013 to remove the authority of synod councils to hear appeals. This means that congregation members who were disciplined under the previous system are left without a place to appeal the discipline imposed by the congregation council. Some difficult situations have resulted from this. I would encourage all congregations to amend their constitutions in line with the Model Constitution for Congregations, especially Chapter 15.

The Office of the Secretary continues to monitor the ways in which questions come up related to the constitutions of this church. These aren't static documents, but significant reasons are needed to consider amending them. Staff has tried to address those areas where questions or problems have developed over the years. One of these issues that will be coming before the 2016 Churchwide Assembly is seasonal membership. Congregations in the southern tier of states find that Lutherans from the north are requesting some form of formal participation in the life of the congregation they attend during winter months. The Grand Canyon Synod requested an "associate membership" that would allow voice and vote at congregational meetings. This led to a proposal for "seasonal membership" to be included in the Model Constitution for Congregations. This optional provision would require prior approval of the synod council of the synod where the congregation is located. There are limitations on the right of voting for seasonal members that affect both the congregation where the person is a regular member and where they would be a seasonal member. The office will monitor this provision carefully should the assembly approve this amendment.

Digitalization of records

The Office of the Secretary is beginning a process to digitize the files of leaders who have resigned or have been removed from the ELCA rosters. Plans call for a protocol that all synods and the Office of the Secretary will use to maintain digital records for rostered leaders. This will be a long-term project that will begin in the Office of the Secretary. I hope the Office of the Secretary's experience will put staff in the position to advise and assist synods in moving from paper files to digital files.

This office continues to work with synods that have the Synod Online Data Archives. Currently 59 synods use this system to archive their assembly minutes, synod council minutes and other important information. As the records are digitized in the churchwide offices, we are pleased to be able to support synods with the potential for using less paper and reducing storage space. The Office of the Secretary will continue to explore the various ways in which the church's work is made easier and more productive through the use of technology.

Polity of the ELCA

One of the interesting and disturbing realizations this call has opened to me is that we still have significant misunderstandings of the polity of this church. We use the language of three expressions of one church frequently, but I believe many don't understand what this means. The ELCA is unique among denominations in this country in describing the church without a primary expression as the source of authority. Provision 5.01.c. says:

The congregations, synods, and churchwide organization of this church are interdependent partners sharing responsibility in God's mission. In an interdependent relationship primary responsibility for particular functions will vary between partners. Whenever possible, the entity most directly affected by a decision shall be the principal party responsible for the decision and implementation, with the other entities facilitating and assisting. Each congregation, synod, and separately incorporated ministry, as well as the churchwide organization itself, is a separate legal entity and is responsible for exercising powers and authorities.

The three expressions share the same membership. I am a member of St. Luke's Lutheran Church, Park Ridge, Ill. That also means that I am a member of the Metropolitan Chicago Synod and a member of the ELCA. So when I place my offering in the plate at St. Luke's, I expect that it supports all three expressions of this church of which I am a member. Too often I hear people speak and act as if the expressions other than the one from whose perspective they are speaking are the others. They feel their expression is the real church. Other denominations have identified a preferred or superior expression, but we have not.

This reality affects the way in which we speak about funding the ministries of this church. It affects the way in which we respond to decisions made by congregational meetings, synod assemblies and this Churchwide Assembly. As we are confused by this, so we confuse our partners when we make promises that seem to be at odds with what others are doing in this church. I am working on presentations to be made at first-call gatherings and that will be shared with seminarians.

In discussing this reality, I hope we will increase our understanding of this church and become more interdependent and responsive in ways in which we work in this three-expression church.

Perhaps the one place where the three expressions do come together in a visible way is the candidacy process. Congregations raise up and support people they believe will be good leaders for the whole church. The churchwide organization sets the policies and standards that are required to be a rostered leader in this church. Synod candidacy committees receive these potential leaders from congregations and work with candidates in meeting the standards that have been established. Final approval from synod candidacy committees places candidates in a process in which the whole church has opportunity to call these new leaders. All three expressions of this church have a unique but essential role in preparing rostered leaders for this church.

As we implement this principle of interdependence, we can call out the experience and support of the whole church in addressing the local context. It is clear that we are not living in a “one size fits all” world. Our polity gives us the ability to respond to the context of an issue with the confidence and assurance that the rest of the church is present and adding to our response. Communication between the expressions is essential. This is not for “permission” but for information so we can support and interpret what the church is doing in all of its expressions.

Other duties

One of the delights of this call is the opportunity to serve as the representative of the churchwide organization at synod assemblies. Seeing bishops functioning as the pastor of the synod that has called them is informative and gives a new perspective on the bishops and the synod they serve. In my first three years, I have been to 15 assemblies. In 10 of these, the synods held elections or re-elections of their bishops. Being with synods at these moments of significant prayer and discussion about the future is a humbling experience. The role of the churchwide representative is one of sharing information but also listening and observing the joys and concerns of the synod.

The Rev. Walter May and I will continue to evaluate and modify the Bishop’s Election Toolkit. This resource is available on the ELCA website and is used by synod transition or bishop’s election committees. Synods have a variety of processes and procedures for elections, and we have attempted to share their “best practices.” This is a work in progress. While we do not anticipate major revisions to the toolkit, we do take what we have heard each year in preparing the next year’s version.

The presiding bishop has an advisory seat on the boards of the Publishing House of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America and Portico Benefit Services. Presiding Bishop Elizabeth A. Eaton has appointed me as adviser to these boards. Sitting on the boards of these separately incorporated ministries is helpful in looking at governance issues and in communicating between the churchwide organization and these ministries. Both organizations have faced significant challenges in recent years. Both have come through these challenges stronger and more responsive to the needs of this church. I want to commend the leadership teams of Augsburg Fortress and Portico Benefits Services for their forward-looking approach to the work of these companies on behalf of this church.

The 2013 Churchwide Assembly referred a resolution to the Conference of Bishops and the Church Council that called for the discussion of term limits and identifying leaders to serve as officers of this church. Ultimately it was referred to the Office of the Secretary to assess and come up with any proposed changes to ELCA governing documents. A survey of the Conference of Bishops, Church Council and synod vice presidents found little support for adding term limits to the constitution for ELCA officers. The reality of an election every six years gives the assembly the authority to impose its own limits by either electing or not electing individuals open to serving beyond their current term. Those surveyed generally did not support term limits that could place restrictions on the potential decision-making of the assembly.

The survey found that some form of identification process was desired for the election of vice president and secretary but not for presiding bishop. The result was the adoption of continuing resolution 19.31.B15.:

In a year when the vice president shall be elected, the voting members of the Churchwide Assembly shall be invited to identify the names of up to three persons who might be considered for election as vice president. Names shall be submitted to the Office of the Secretary at least four months prior to the assembly. The Office of the Secretary shall contact those persons identified and request biographical information. At least 60 days prior to the Churchwide Assembly, the biographical information received from those persons open to consideration shall be distributed to the voting members.

This process will be used in 2016 for the election of vice president. The process will be evaluated to see how well it assisted voting members in the decision-making process. If deemed helpful, I intend to propose the same or similar process for the election of the secretary in 2019. I welcome your evaluation of this as we choose a new person to serve as vice president.

The summary of the annual reports from congregations is attached to this report. I am concerned that the number of congregations submitting these reports decreases every year. This is a constitutional requirement and an important tool in maintaining trend reports for the congregation and for the whole church. The form was modified this year to include questions related to congregational vitality. While numbers are not the whole story, they are important. But there may be other ways to establish benchmarks in helping congregations gauge their vitality and the areas that might help strengthen their ministries. The Office of the Secretary is looking at how it can make this tool helpful to congregational leaders and give the churchwide organization and synods information that will help better support congregational ministry.

The Office of the Secretary and Mission Advancement unit will be revising the annual report forms for rostered leaders. The current forms do not provide the type of information that is most helpful to synod bishops. Several synods have already redesigned forms that they have been using. These efforts will be considered in designing new report forms.

Conclusion

People have asked me how I like this call. My response is that I enjoy it and am invigorated by it. Being the ELCA secretary is a unique experience. Coming from a synod office has given me and the Office of the Secretary a new perspective on the work we do. I believe this helps staff understand the issues that come from synods and helps synods do the work that is needed for the whole church.

My conversations with members of congregations and staff of synod offices cause me to have renewed confidence in this church. We are people who do care about sharing the good news of God in Jesus in word and deed. We know that we need structures to help us when we are making decisions, but we are not structure-driven — we are gospel-driven. That is a source of hope and opportunity for this church. It is a joy to serve such a church.

The Rev. Wm Chris Boerger, secretary

Roster Statistics

Appendix B

The secretary is responsible for maintaining the official rosters of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America (ELCA). These include the rosters of congregations, ordained ministers, associates in ministry, deaconesses and diaconal ministers.

Roster of Congregations

The ELCA counted 9,392 congregations on December 31, 2014, including 131 congregations under development.

The record of those added to the roster of congregations is indicated in Table 1.

The record of removals from the roster of congregations by categories is shown in Table 2.

The process for withdrawal of a congregation is specified by constitutional provisions 9.62. and 9.71. in the Constitution, Bylaws, and Continuing Resolutions of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America.

“Merged” is defined as involving a congregation giving up its separate identity and uniting with an already existing congregation (i.e., being merged into an existing congregation).

“Consolidated” is defined as involving two or more congregations that join together to become a new entity with a new name and a new congregation identification number (i.e., the congregations are consolidated to become a new congregation).

The roster of congregations is published annually in the yearbook of the ELCA, prepared by staff of the Office of the Secretary. Congregations that have been received into this church or that have been consolidated, merged, withdrawn, disbanded, or removed are listed at the end of the roster of congregations in the yearbook.

Change of Synodical Relationship

Any change in a congregation’s synodical relationship is to be reported to the Churchwide Assembly. As provided by ELCA bylaw 10.02.02., “Any congregation in a border area desiring to change its synod relationship may do so upon approval of the synod assemblies of the synods concerned, which shall report any such change to the Churchwide Assembly.” Two congregations reported changes in their synodical relationships in the 2013–2015 triennium.

Roster of Ordained Ministers

As of December 31, 2015, the roster of ordained ministers of this church listed a total of 16,376 ordained ministers (active and retired). Included in that number were 4,238 women and 780 persons of color or whose primary language is other than English.

Additions to the roster of ordained ministers take place only in the ways defined by the constitution and bylaws of the ELCA. Those specific ways are:

1. Individuals who are ordained in accord with the constitution and bylaws of this church in effect at the time of their ordinations, after having been approved by a duly constituted synodical candidacy committee and having received and accepted a regular, attested Letter of Call to be a pastor.
2. Individuals received:
  - a. Individuals approved by a synodical candidacy committee who previously were ordained in another Lutheran church body or another Christian church body, under bylaw 7.31.14., whose ordination is recognized by this church under the policy that addresses such recognition. Others would be ordained by this church under the policy of such reception.
  - b. Individuals received, under churchwide bylaw 8.72.15.c., through the candidacy process for the roster of ordained ministers who were ordained in a full-communion partner church body.
3. Individuals reinstated to the roster of ordained ministers, under churchwide bylaw 7.31.15., who previously were ordained in this church or one of its predecessor church bodies.

* Evangelical Lutheran Church in Canada

As was the case in predecessor church bodies, including those that existed prior to 1960, unauthorized or irregular ordinations are not recognized.

Only ELCA clergy called: In keeping with the criteria for membership in the ELCA, congregations agree to call as pastors only ordained ministers on the ELCA roster or duly approved candidates for the roster (churchwide constitutional provision 9.21.d. and bylaw 9.21.01.).

Partner church clergy under contract: Service by ordained ministers from full-communion partner church bodies is addressed in churchwide bylaws 8.72.15. and 9.21.02. and takes place under contract with the approval of the synodical bishop. Such ministers are not eligible for call by an ELCA congregation.

Added to roster: Only the names of individuals ordained or received in conformity with the governing documents and policy statements in place at the time of the ordination or reception are added to the roster of ordained ministers of the ELCA.

The names of people added to and removed from the roster of ordained ministers are listed annually in the yearbook of the ELCA. The number of additions to the roster of ordained ministers and removals from that roster are shown in Table 3.

Percentages of pastors who are women as part of the whole clergy roster (active and retired) and as part of the active roster for 1998 through 2015 appear in Table 4.

Official Rosters of Laypersons

This church has established three rosters of laypersons. They are associates in ministry, deaconesses and diaconal ministers.

The names of those approved by the ELCA for admission to the roster of associates in ministry, the roster of deaconesses and the roster of diaconal ministers — as well as the names of those removed from those rosters — are listed annually in the yearbook of the ELCA.

As of December 31, 2015, the roster of associates in ministry numbered 956 people (see Table 5).

The roster of deaconesses numbered 58 women as of December 31, 2015 (see Table 6). This figure does not include those in the Evangelical Lutheran Church in Canada.

Diaconal ministers, as of December 31, 2015, numbered 204 people (see Table 7). The roster of diaconal ministers, established by the 1993 Churchwide Assembly, was started in 1996 with the consecration of seven people.

Congregations Removed, Disbanded, Withdrawn, Consolidated or Merged 2013–2015

Appendix N

Congregations removed, disbanded, withdrawn, consolidated or merged prior to 2016 but not previously reported in minutes of churchwide assemblies are included in this list. The ELCA congregation identification number (in parentheses) follows the name of each congregation.

“Merged” is defined as involving a congregation giving up its separate identity and uniting with an already existing congregation (i.e., being merged into an existing congregation).

“Consolidated” is defined as involving two or more congregations that join together to become a new entity with a new name and a new congregation identification number (i.e., the congregations are consolidated to form a new congregation).

The process for withdrawal of a congregation is specified by constitutional provisions 9.62. and 9.71. in the Constitution, Bylaws, and Continuing Resolutions of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America.
