Spiritual gifts

Service (helping): The spiritual gift that enables the receiver to work gladly behind the scenes in order that God's work is fulfilled.

People with this gift are usually available, willing, helpful, loyal, reliable, dependable, having a whatever-it-takes attitude.

Cautions for people with this gift: remembering that doing practical deeds is a spiritual contribution to the body of Christ; finding it difficult to say "no" because of the desire to support others.

Biblical references: Luke 23:50-54, Romans 16:1-16, Philippians 2:19-23

Skilled craft: The spiritual gift that enables the receiver to create, build, maintain or repair items used within the church.

People with this gift are usually creative, resourceful, helpful, design-oriented, practical, handy, used to functioning behind the scenes.

Cautions for people with this gift: failing to see that their gift is significant and one that makes a spiritual contribution to the body of Christ; using people to get things done instead of helping them grow in the process.

Biblical references: Exodus 30:1-6, Exodus 31:3-5, Ezekiel 27:4-11

Called to Lead

Music and writing: The spiritual gifts that give the receiver the capability to provide inspiration and comfort to others through singing or playing a musical instrument or to express truth in a written form.

People with this gift are usually expressive, imaginative, insightful, inspiring, reflective, sensitive, creative, studious, truthful, observant.

Cautions for people with this gift: remembering that music is not for music's sake but to glorify God and edify others; remembering that it is God's message, not theirs; finding evaluation and constructive criticism difficult to accept; being proud.

Biblical references: Psalm 96:1-9; Psalm 150; 1 John 2:1-6, 12-14; 1 Timothy 3:14-15

You have wonderful gifts that we encourage you to use faithfully among your family and friends, at your workplace and/or school, in the community in which you live, and in your faith community, too. Within the church, you may be especially gifted at: sharing music and poetry to give meaning to life and relationships; planning events that bring people together; showing care for others through acts of service as a pastor, deacon, chaplain or lay leader.
