

FPBN Gathering Activities: Proclamation Station – Now & Then

This activity will characterize the Proclamation Station as a multi-media training center for children, youth and adults to name, claim and proclaim God's story. Participants will identify some of the many resources available for sharing faith today that were not available in Bible times. They will discover the variety of ways they have to share faith today.

"Go-Tell" megaphones have been designed to integrate the theme and content of this event. They may be used to celebrate Jesus' Matthew 28:19 invitation to "Go-Tell" God's Story and highlight the key learnings from each Go-Tell Media center.

The Leader's Notes for this activity, along with any needed preparations and supplies are listed below. Program Planning Grid (PDF file) is available to assist you in coordinating the details and tasks involved. You may also wish to use The FPBN Sign design to identify the location for this activity.

Leader's Notes:

Scan through the activity outline and adapt your plans to honor the time you have scheduled for your overall event.

You may wish to recruit a few people to pre-cut the patterns for the megaphone craft. Make a sample megaphone and display a few "Go-Tell" stickers on it for easy reference.

Use the following instructions to make a sample "Go-Tell" megaphone.

- Download and print out the pattern for the 'Go-Tell' megaphone on plain paper or light weight card stock.
- Cut out the megaphone and the handle along the solid lines
- Spread glue between the dotted line and the outer edge of the megaphone. Align the outer edge of the megaphone with the dotted line and adhere them
- Place the handle along the seam of the megaphone and glue.
- Display some of the "Go-Tell" stickers on the megaphone

The “Go-Tell” Sticker Sheets A–E are formatted to be printed on filing labels. They are approximately 2/3” x 3 - 7/16” in size. Prepare a set of them to display on a “Go-Tell” megaphone.

Download and print out the five “Possibilities for Proclamation” sheets to display on a wall or table. If you anticipate a larger group, you may wish to print them on overhead transparencies and enlarge them for display on newsprint or poster board. Lay out markers for this activity.

Print out the Greek and Hebrew references. Roll the Hebrew reference into a papyrus scroll. Display the Greek reference on a piece of brown construction paper to resemble parchment or animal hide.

Create a FPBN table tent to identify the location of this activity. Print out a copy of the FPBN sign design and use a variety of colored markers to highlight the letters F-P-B-N. Then, cut along the solid line to display the letters above the rest of the table tent. Fold the sheet lengthwise to make a table tent and identify the activity in the space provided.

Activity:

Greet people as they gather and encourage them to visit the FPBN Welcome Center first.

Point out the “Possibilities for Proclamation” sheets and invite participants to consider some of the ways each resource has been used for personal or mass communication, for business or pleasure. Encourage them to print their responses in the spaces provided. Participant responses might be as general as friendship, conversations, information, emails, entertainment, or as specific as the movies, TV programs and websites they enjoy. Ask them to consider which resources were available during Bible times. Then, display the only print materials known to be available in Old (Hebrew) and New (Greek) Testament times - the papyrus (pressed plant) scroll, the parchments (animal skins) and a pair of sandals. (Note: the sandals are meant to recognize the method of traveling from person to person to relay messages.)

Define “proclamation.” (Webster’s definition: To relay information, to announce or confirm something to be true) Explain that the Proclamation Station is designed to be a multi-media training center for learning new ways to name, claim and proclaim God’s story. Invite participants to consider ways that they have seen or heard messages of God’s love and activity in the many forms of communication available today.

Display a “Go -Tell” megaphone and identify it as an age-old tool for communication. Mention that actors used them to project their voices in the early Greek drama theatres - long before a microphone was invented. Inquire when or where participants might have seen a megaphone, e.g. cheerleaders used them at an athletic event.

Make mini megaphones to celebrate Jesus’ ongoing invitation in Matthew 28:19 to go and tell God’s Story. Mention that the megaphones have also been designed to highlight the key learning at each “Go-Tell” Media Center for future reference.
